E. T. V. & G. Road Ordered Sold.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 6.—Chancellor Gibson of the State court to-day ordered the sale of the E. T. V. & G. Road, if certain claims amounting to $53,000, be not paid within sixty days. The claims were for damages and debts due before the road went into the hands of a receiver in 1882. The present owners hold the title from a special master of the United States circuit court, and claim full title and exemption from all previous indebtedness. The case will be appealed.

Horrible Death of an Engineer.

READING, Pa., August 6.—At Rehtellville, this county, in the works where Thomas A. Edison's new invention of the iron ore separator is being tested, Philip Dougherty, an engineer, met with a horrible death this forenoon. His clothing caught in one of the big belts, and his body was drawn between two rollers, through a space half an inch wide. The entire machinery, weighing many tons, must be removed. The body is still fast between the rollers.

The Waynesville Courier.

We acknowledge a very pleasant call yesterday from Mr. S. H. Benn, editor of the Waynesville Courier, one of the very best weekly newspapers published west of the Ridge. Its general get-up is clean, bright and attractive, and as a medium through which to reach the population of outlying districts in this section Asheville merchants and business men can find no better. We take great pleasure in calling their careful attention to this really first-class weekly journal. The advertising rates of the Courier are very reasonable indeed.

At Battery Park.

Asheville's big hotel is crowded with guests at present, and the season of 1889 bids fair to eclipse all others known by the management. Every State in the Union is represented on the register with the exception of North Dakota, and Col. Steele is besieged with applications for apartments at his famous hostelry for the months of September and October.

HEREAFTER

We will run two delivery wagons. The necessity for this has been caused by our largely increasing trade, making it impossible to deliver with one wagon. There have been complaints (and justly, too) by some of our customers at not having goods delivered more promptly. With our additional facilities for delivery we hope to increase our already large trade, and promise to meet all competition. Our stock, as heretofore, will be kept up to the highest standard in quality. All goods sold by us guaranteed to be as represented, both in weights and quality.
